

ONSITE TRAINING

In-house Training Overview

Any Spectros Associates short course can be taught onsite at your company. The beauty of onsite training is that we can customize course contents and length to your budget, industry, and to the ability level of the attendees. All of our courses are modularized, so we can easily add and delete topics to comprise a course that perfectly suits your needs. For example, we have developed custom onsite courses on the Infrared Analysis of Polymers and the Infrared Analysis of Controlled Substances in response to customer requests. The material covered will be relevant, easy-to-understand, and based on our knowledge of your needs.
